1. What are Cookies

Cookies are small text files which are stored on your computer or device. They are designed to hold a small amount of data specific to you, the client, and the website, and can be accessed either by the website or the client. We use cookies to allow our website to deliver a page tailored to you, or the page itself can contain some scripts which are aware of the data in the cookie and are able to carry information from one visit to the website (or related site) to the next.

2. How We Use Cookies

This website uses cookies to improve your user experience while visiting the website. We also use cookies for the account registration facility. Where applicable this website uses a cookie control system allowing you, on your first visit, to confirm the use of cookies on your computer or device. This complies with current EU legislation requirements for websites to obtain explicit consent from users before leaving behind files, or reading files such as cookies, on a user's computer or device. We do not collect any personally-identifiable information using cookies.

Additional and separate cookies may be stored to your computer or device by third-party applications that are in use on the website. These may include tracking info or analytical data systems. No personally-identifiable information is collected or stored by these cookies.

3. Cookie Requirements

We use cookies on the website in accordance with the guidelines laid out above. No guarantee is provided by streemin that the website will function as intended if you refuse the use of cookies when that option is presented to you on your first visit. If you decline the use of cookies, you may also be unable to use additional services on the website, such as the account registration facility.
